Why Collaborate with Artists?

More than eighty artists have created installations for Eastern State Penitentiary’s cellblocks and yards. Some of these installations were among the most successful programming the site has presented, and brought perspectives and approaches that would not have been possible in traditional historic site programming.

We seek installations that will explore Eastern State Penitentiary’s history, and evoke a broad range of emotions. We seek installations that will make connections between the complex history of this building and today’s criminal justice system and corrections policies.

We want to humanize these difficult subjects with personal stories and distinct points of view. We want to hear new voices—voices that might emphasize the political, or humorous, or bluntly personal. We want our visitors to be challenged with provocative questions, and we’re prepared to face some provocative questions ourselves.

In short, we seek memorable, thought-provoking additions to our public programming, combined with true excellence in artistic practice.

If our definition of this program seems broad, it’s because we’re open to approaches that we haven’t yet imagined.

Surprise us.

Sean Kelley
Senior Vice President, Director of Interpretation
Funding Level One

Standard: $7,500 Max

Our standard artist project guidelines and budgets (maximum $7,500 funding per project) remain unchanged for the 2018 cycle.

We welcome work that addresses Eastern State Penitentiary’s complex history or architecture, the U.S. criminal justice system, and any subject that makes an emotional or intellectual connection to these subjects. (See “Why Collaborate with Artists?” above.)

Any subject listed below in Criminal Justice Today could also be appropriate for Standard project funding.

Two Standard projects will be awarded, maximum.

* Orientation times, submission requirements and deadlines are identical for both funding levels, unless otherwise noted.
Funding Level Two

Criminal Justice Today: $15,000 Max

We seek an artist or team whose work will complement Eastern State Penitentiary’s programming around contemporary corrections, inspiring reflection on one of these central themes:

- Who goes to prison? Who gets away with it? Why? Have you gotten away with something illegal?
- How might your appearance, background, family connections or social status have affected your interaction with the criminal justice system?
- What are prisons for? Do prisons “work”? What would a successful criminal justice system look like?
- What are the biggest challenges facing the U.S criminal justice system today?
- Call to action: How can visitors affect change in their communities? How can they influence evolving criminal justice policies?

These questions reflect the kind of conversations we have with our visitors. It is not necessary for proposals to literally address a single one of these questions, but to consider the broad set of questions as an inspiration.

We are interested in artists who propose work that is interactive/participatory. Artists with an existing body of work addressing social change will be given preference. We are open to proposals from artists new to this practice, however, if their ideas are particularly strong.

One Criminal Justice Today project will be awarded, maximum.

* Orientation times, submission requirements and deadlines are identical for both funding levels, unless otherwise noted.*
Important Dates and Deadlines:

Orientation Tours:

We strongly recommend that applicants begin the proposal process by attending an artist orientation. These informal tours/conversations give artists a chance to explore the space, discuss what makes a successful proposal, ask questions, and observe visitors interacting with the current installations. There is no charge for attending an orientation.

Orientations last about one hour. Please dress for the weather. Please do not use tape measures or other measuring devices. Our staff can provide measurements for all spaces not listed in the FAQ section of this document.

Applicants with a reservation may arrive at any time on the day of a scheduled orientation and/or stay until the site closes for the day. We recommend using this time to take the site’s audio tour and explore other programming in the space. Photography is welcome before or after the orientation tour, but not during the tour itself.

Artists who cannot attend during a scheduled orientation but wish to visit the site must pay standard admission, and will not be able to meet with historic site staff at the time of their visit. Questions following a visit are welcome by email or phone.

Please let us know if you plan to attend an artist orientation by sending an email with the name, address, email, and phone number of every person requesting attendance at least 48 hours in advance. Space is limited to 30 applicants per orientation. Studio assistants and collaborative teams are welcome. Friends and family may not join the orientation tour, and should pay standard admission and tour the site separately. We are happy to make common sense exceptions, such as a child traveling with a single adult. RSVP to Annie Anderson at aa@easternstate.org.

Planning a Proposal

Eligibility:

- Collaborative proposals are permitted; individual artists may participate in only one proposal per year (whether alone or as part of a collaboration). Artists may not submit a proposal into both Standard and Criminal Justice Today funding levels.

- Artists who have exhibited at Eastern State must wait five years after removal of their work before submitting a proposal for a new installation.

- Applicants may not submit previously rejected proposals unless specifically invited to do so.

- Artists must be at least 18 years old.

- All proposals must be for a site-specific installation.

- These guidelines are for artists who wish to install visual, video or other installation work to remain on view during all public hours at the historic site. The site does host performing arts, films, and speakers’ series. Please contact Sean Kelley at sk@easternstate.org for proposals in the performing or live arts.

Exhibition Conditions:

Eastern State Penitentiary Historic Site is a National Historic Landmark, the highest designation for a historic property under Federal law. It is also a ruin, abandoned in 1971, and stands today as an architectural shell. The building has virtually no running water, little climate control, and limited electrical service. These conditions can be destructive to many types of materials. Most artists working at Eastern State build their work for the space and incorporate the inevitable deterioration into the piece.
Because of the building’s condition, neither Eastern State Penitentiary Historic Site, Inc. (the organization that administers the historic site) nor the City of Philadelphia (the owner of the site) can be responsible for damage to work on site. The historic site carries insurance for the safety of the public while on the property, and of the artists during the installation process, but not for the value of the installations on display.

Electricity is available in several locations throughout the site. Most locations do not have electric service. Extension cords are limited to a 9-foot cord from the outlet to the unit requiring power. See FAQ for more information.

Because of Eastern State’s historic designation, art installations may not permanently damage or alter the building or artifacts in any way without prior written approval. This approval process includes what might seem to be relatively minor damage, such as nailing into plaster, taping onto or painting surfaces, brushing paint from the walls, or removing debris. Failure to account for this restriction eliminates many proposals during the selection process. Many artists have found creative ways to install work that creates an illusion of permanence, but is reversible. We are happy to share examples of previous solutions to these challenges.

Installation/Maintenance:

Artists are responsible for the installation and removal of their work. Artists will have access to the building for planning and installation once their proposal has been accepted and they have signed a Letter of Agreement.

Our tour staff can perform limited maintenance (turning on and off power, sweeping, monitoring the condition of the work, etc.). Artists should assume, however, that the staff at the historic site will not be able to monitor the spaces during all public hours, and any substantial maintenance should be accounted for by the artist or contractors hired by the artist.

Choosing a Location:

Artists may apply for any public area in the penitentiary complex, except Cellblock 2 and the main audio tour route (indicated on our site map/brochure below with a blue line). Some installations, such as Linda Brenner’s Ghost Cats have been sited in several locations throughout the penitentiary complex.

We recommend making space requests as broad as possible (“any cell with electricity”), since it gives us confidence that we can find a site for the work. We also encourage artists to propose for specific locations if those locations are important to the piece, such as Nick Cassway’s request for his installation—Portraits of Inmates in the Death Row Population Sentenced as Juveniles—to face Death Row.

Spaces on the outside of the penitentiary walls may also be available, including in the Corinthian and Brown Street garden areas. These proposals will require another set of approvals from neighborhood groups.

Our staff is available to consult on proposed locations.
Funding and Installation Extension:

The historic site will fund a maximum $7,500.00 per Standard project and $15,000.00 per Criminal Justice Today project. This funding indicates approval to exhibit. All projects that are approved will be installed for one full tour season (typically May 1 through November 30), unless the proposal states otherwise. Artists may apply for future installation cycles, and should assume that the same guidelines, deadlines, and Standard funding levels will apply.

- We recommend at least $1,000 of a maximum Standard funding proposal and $3,000 of a Criminal Justice Today proposal be dedicated to artist fees. Each project will be different, but we anticipate the Criminal Justice Today proposals will likely be very time consuming projects. We do not accept proposals that dedicate no artist fee.
• Selection and funding are contingent upon a signed Letter of Agreement between the artist and the historic site.

• Twenty-five percent (25%) of the total budget will be withheld until the exhibit has been removed and the space returned to its condition prior to the installation.

• Many artists are able to secure additional funding for their installation at Eastern State. The historic site can sometimes act as the fiscal agent for an artist who has received additional funding from an outside foundation.

• Most funding for art programming is provided by Eastern State Penitentiary’s Halloween fundraiser, Terror Behind the Walls. Additional funding is provided indirectly by foundations and other funding organizations. We may ask artists to recognize these funders in any printed materials or wall texts associated with their installation.

• The historic site produces an audio tour stop, up to two exhibit signs for each project, and press releases about the installations. The site also hosts an opening reception, and produces an invitation to this reception. It is not necessary to include these expenses in the installation budget.

Proposal Development: The historic site does not accept proposals for project development. The Review Committee may offer, at its discretion, development funds to applicants whose proposals look promising, but whose ideas require additional resources to get a better idea of the final direction the work will take.

Extending an Installation: Artists whose work is currently installed may be invited to extend their installation for additional tour seasons. These invitations will come from the historic site staff.
What to Send

Part 1: The Written Proposal

Written Proposal Guidelines:

- Provide twelve (12) copies of the written proposal. All pages, including illustrations, must be printed on plain, letter-sized paper (8.5” x 11” or international equivalent). No paper heavier than 30 lb. No glossy paper, cardstock, or vellum please.

- All pages must be typed in 10-point font or larger, 1.5 line spaced and have at least one-inch margins. Proposals should be in “portrait,” not “landscape” format.

- Each proposal should be held with a paper clip only. Please do not staple, punch holes in, or place the written proposals in binders, folders etc., as this will prohibit them from being bound for the committee.

- Please number the pages of the proposal, and put the applicant(s’) full name(s) on every page.

- Proposals will not be reviewed if they are submitted after the deadline, are incomplete or do not follow the guidelines listed here.

- Nothing will be returned to the artist. All proposals, illustrations etc. will be either kept by the historic site or destroyed at the end of the review process. All proposals become the property of Eastern State Penitentiary Historic Site, Inc. and may be published even if the proposal is not accepted.

- Please do not submit any additional materials. They will not be forwarded to the committee. Proposals should not include artist statements or letters of support. Cover letters will not be forwarded to the committee.

Sections and Content

Please follow this structure and label proposal sections using these headings:

Part 1a: Contact Information:

Include full name, address, telephone number and email address. (Artists’ communications will take place via email.)
Part 1b: Funding Level.

Chose: (1) Standard Funding or (2) Criminal Justice Today Funding Level.

Part 1c: Installation Title and Location:

• Title of the proposed installation.
• Location of proposed work (if flexible, write “Any Location.”). Artists applying for a specific area should identify this area by its historical name (e.g. “Cellblock 7”) and not by a map symbol (e.g. “A2”) as these may change from year to year.

Part 1d: Physical Project Description (100 words maximum):

A description of the proposed work in the most literal sense, naming materials and placement. Use language that is as clear and direct as possible. See the "Helpful Hints" section for an example.

Part 1e: Illustration(s) of Proposed Work:

Proposals must contain between 1 and 5 sketches or digital illustrations of the proposed installation. These illustrations should be submitted here, in the written proposal. Please do not upload these images to the website.

Part 1f: Narrative (4 pages max for Standard, 8 pages max for Criminal Justice Today):

I. Detailed project description, including a broader explanation of the proposed work.
II. "Why Eastern State Penitentiary?"
III. How will this work contribute to a visitor’s experience of touring Eastern State Penitentiary?
IV. List of the types of maintenance the piece will require.
V. Will the work create sound? If so, how much?
VI. Did you attend an artist orientation? If so, what exact date? Have you visited the site during non-orientation times?

Part 1g: Requested Funding/Budget:

Detail how the funds will be spent. The more specific the budget, the better. List exact equipment models and number of hours/ pay rate of assistants, etc. Maximum funding for Standard projects is $7,500.00 and for Criminal Justice Today projects is $15,000.00. Account for how additional funds, if required, will be secured.

Part 1h: Previous Work: Titles and Descriptions of Electronic Files:

Proposals may be accompanied by a maximum of 12 electronic files illustrating the artist’s previous work (see below). Section1g of the written proposal should include the title of each electronic file uploaded, with a maximum of 20 words of explanation per file.

Part 1i: Resume/ Curriculum Vita/ Previous Exhibition List:

Maximum 3 pages per artist.
Part 1j: Confirmation Postcard. (Optional)
A self-addressed, stamped postcard that we will mail to confirm arrival of your proposal. Please enclose just one postcard.

William Cromar’s GTMO. 2004- Present

Part 2: Electronic Support Materials

Examples of previous work may only be submitted through the proposal website. Compact discs, DVDs, hardcopy photographs or any non-digital examples of previous work will not be forwarded to the committee.

Artists may upload up to 12 electronic files to Eastern State Penitentiary’s website. These files may be photographs, audio files (2 minutes maximum length, per file), or video (2 minutes maximum length, per file). Collaborative teams must still limit themselves to 12 electronic files, total, regardless of format or content.

Electronic file names should include the artist’s last name and the sequence number (i.e. “Cardiff_1.jpg,” “Cardiff_2.jpg”). These electronic files should be listed and described in Section 1g of the written proposal (above).

A website will be available to upload electronic files beginning May 15. A link to the website will be posted here:
While there is no fee to apply to Eastern State’s artist program, the website that allows applicants to electronically upload digital images charges a small fee.

Helpful Hints

• Follow the guidelines in this document. While we try to be flexible in many ways, inability to follow these guidelines does not reflect well on an artist’s professionalism and attention to detail.

• Attend an orientation if at all possible. Most artists report that the orientation had a strong impact on the evolution of their proposals. While at least two artists have submitted successful proposals without attending an orientation, they are the exception, not the rule.

• The Physical Project Description (Section 1c) of the narrative should be as literal as possible. Avoid interpretation of your work, and simply tell us what you plan to install. Example: “My project consists of thirty-nine white plaster castings of cats posed in various natural positions. Castings will be dispersed throughout the prison (primarily outdoors) located in areas they can be seen by the public on self-guided tours.”

• Avoid proposing materials that will not hold up in Eastern State’s environment. Work on paper or canvas, for example, generally cannot survive the harsh environment of Eastern State.

• Be careful not to romanticize the prison’s history, make unsupported assumptions about the lives of inmates or guards, or suggest sweeping generalizations. The prison’s history is complicated and broad. Simple statements often reduce its meaning.

• Previous work with the subject matter is very promising. Let us know! A proposal to work with people in prison or victims of violent crime by an artist who has never done so before, on the other hand, will raise concern.

• Do not suggest Eastern State solely as an architectural backdrop. (“Why Eastern State? Because my work would look great there!”) Artist installations must deepen the experience of visitors who are touring this National Historic Landmark, addressing some aspect of the building’s significance.

• Although your proposal must address some aspect of Eastern State’s significance, feel free to think about this significance broadly. It is not necessary to incorporate Eastern State’s history, for instance. Many successful proposals, including Nick Cassway’s Portraits of Inmates in the Death Row Population Sentenced as Juveniles and Ilan Sandler’s Arrest, did not focus on Eastern State’s history at all. They did, however, address subjects central to the topics we hope our visitors will be contemplating during their visit.

• Some of our best installations did address Eastern State’s history, including Linda Brenner’s Ghost Cats, Nick Kripal’s Contemplation/Cultivation and Greg Cowper’s Specimen, currently on view. If you are going to include information about Eastern State’s history, please make sure you are accurate. Artists should be sensitive to the history of the space and only include historical information in the proposal if it is relevant to the work. Our staff is available to consult on historical accuracy. An extensive history of Eastern State Penitentiary, including detailed narratives and information on specific inmates, can be downloaded and searched electronically from our website:

http://easternstate.org/learn/research-library/history/571-page-history
• Overt political content can be good.

• The historic site staff has been focusing explicitly on the modern American phenomenon of mass incarceration, on questions of justice and effectiveness within the American prison system today, and on the effects of race and poverty on prison population demographics. We welcome proposals that can help engage our visitors with these complex subjects.

• When possible, the committee likes to see multiple viewpoints expressed among the artists who exhibit their work at Eastern State. Every year the committee reviews dozens of proposals for work that will express empathy for the men and women who served time at Eastern State. The committee has accepted many of these proposals, generally resulting in successful installations. These include Michael Grothusen’s _midway of another day_, Dayton Castleman’s _The End of the Tunnel_, and Judith Taylor’s _My Glass House_. The committee rarely sees proposals, however, that explore the impact of violence on families and society in general, or the perspective of victims of crime. Exceptions have been Ilan Sandler’s _Arrest_ (2000 to 2003) and Sharyn O’Mara’s _Victim Impact Statement_ (2010) and Cindy Stockton-Moore’s _Other Absences_, currently on view. We hope to see more installations on those themes in the future.

• Samples of previous successful proposals are also posted on our website: http://easternstate.org/visit/site-rentals-special-arrangements/past-installations. Although some guidelines have changed since these proposals were written, the tone and directness of the proposals (and their underlying vision of a successful work) remain exemplary.

• Be realistic. How much will you be able to accomplish with available funding and installation time?

• Propose to do it right. Budget for professional help with designing or fabricating the project, if necessary. We are not looking for bargains, but for great installations the engage our visitors and built to last.
Frequently Asked Questions

• What do you think of my idea? Would you look at my proposal before I apply?

Our staff is available to discuss the logistics of the proposal process and the history/significance of Eastern State Penitentiary. We’re also happy to clarify the goals of this program. Please don’t hesitate to ask! We will generally defer, however, to the Review Committee on questions of the artistic merit of an idea. That’s the role of the committee, after all.

• May I visit the prison on another day (not an artist orientation)?

Only if you pay general admission and attend as a typical visitor. Orientations are free of charge but we cannot provide free access or arrange for staff input at other times.

A videotaped art orientation tour from 2015 can be found here: http://www.easternstate.org/art.

• May I photograph/film?

You’re welcome to photograph or film during your visit, as long as you are not disruptive and show common-sense courtesy to other visitors. We ask for no photography or filming during orientation tours themselves. Tripod passes are also available at the site for a small fee.

- What access may I have to the historic site archives during the proposal process?

  We ask that artists withhold their requests to visit our archives until after their proposals have been approved. Our small staff cannot accommodate the volume of requests from all applying artists. We are happy, however, to discuss the types of resources available to artists whose proposals have been approved. Substantial electronic resources are also available to the general public. Please see our website for those our staff has selected as the most useful resources: http://www.easternstate.org/research-resources

  An extensive history of Eastern State Penitentiary, including detailed narratives and information on specific inmates, can also be downloaded and searched electronically from our website:

  http://easternstate.org/learn/research-library/history/571-page-history

  Once a proposal has been accepted, the historic site staff can provide extensive access to the site archives.

- I don’t live in Pennsylvania / I don’t live in the United States. May I still apply?

  Yes. Several international artists have installed work at Eastern State through this program.

- Can I apply for a later exhibit cycle?

  Yes, but do so carefully. Artists sometimes find more time helpful if they plan to raise additional funds. The Review Committee is more conservative, however, when accepting proposals beyond the current cycle under review. We recommend that artists not apply for future cycles unless they are confident that extra time is necessary.

- How many proposals do you receive? How many artists are selected each year?

  Every year is different, but in most years about 80 artists propose work and three are selected.
• I have pre-existing work. Can I propose to show it at Eastern State?

No. We do not knowingly accept proposals to exhibit existing work at Eastern State. Many artists work within a set method or practice, and new work within their set body of work may be appropriate.

• I see Eastern State rarely exhibits paintings and photographs. Why?

We love seeing painters and photographers at the site, but work on paper or canvas generally cannot survive the harsh environment of Eastern State. Painter Mary DeWitt (paint onto window glass) and photographer Judith Taylor (direct emulsion onto the greenhouse windows) both found solutions to create work that could survive in this building, so it can be done.
• May I incorporate sound or video into my piece by using the audio equipment carried by visitors at the site?

Yes! Feel free to propose audio content for your work on the historic site’s audio tour players (mp3 players). Most visitors to Eastern State carry an audio tour player. You are also welcome to incorporate sound using other technology.

• What happens to the work at the end of the exhibit? May I keep it?

You may remove and keep anything you brought onto the site as part of your installation.

• May I sell my work after it’s removed from Eastern State?

Yes. All work becomes the property of the artist(s) after it is removed from Eastern State.

• Can I make planned changes to the piece after it’s installed?

Yes. Many artists have created work designed to change and evolve over time, and they sometimes plan periodic changes to the work as part of their proposal.

• May I sell my work in the site’s museum store?

No.

• Where can I stay while in Philadelphia?

Hotel packages are available on the Eastern State website: http://easternstate.org/visit/hotel-packages

• May I exhibit on the outside walls/ terraces?

In theory, yes. These projects can be complex because the historic site neighbors must be consulted regarding anything on the outside walls. But it has been done successfully on two occasions, and we encourage artists to propose more such work in the future.

The most recent example was Dayton Castleman’s End of the Tunnel: http://easternstate.org/visit/site-rentals-special-arrangements/past-installations/dayton-castleman-end-tunnel

• When will the guidelines be posted for the next round? How can I stay informed about the art program at Eastern State Penitentiary?

Sign up for our artist opportunity electronic newsletter! We only send two or three emails a year.
Just enter your email address at the top of the Eastern State homepage:
http://easternstate.org/home
• How big is a cell? How long is a cellblock?

Cell sizes vary throughout the prison. For the purposes of this proposal, please assume that the above measurements will apply to the cell(s) in which you will site your work. It is critical that artists whose proposals have been accepted take careful measurements of the exact spaces in which their work will be exhibited before building their installations.

The illustration above is available as a Google SketchUp File. Please email us if you would like to receive the file.

Cellblock lengths also vary dramatically. Please assume that cellblocks are 10 feet wide by 250 feet long for the proposal process.
